

Welcome to Adheco

Adheco Ltd. was established in 1983 with a mandate that has always remained the same – to provide quality adhesives, pressure sensitive tapes and abrasives to the industrial market. Our Water Based Adhesive suppliers include SABA and 3M, and it is with great pride that we maintain excellent relationships with these world class suppliers. It also ensures that you will receive unquestionable quality and support at all times. With our Water Based Adhesive program we offer not only a broad range of adhesives but also many equipment options for dispensing and applying the products. Our excellent team of professionals includes individuals with many years of industrial experience, with high levels of technical knowledge – indeed we strive to differentiate ourselves through this ability to work with our customers and provide solutions to technical problems.

Although our focus is consistent, Adheco is constantly changing in ways to improve as your supplier. From ISO 9001:2008 registration, to unique product and technology additions, to ongoing training for customer service and field sales representatives, to a management approach that encourages employee creativity, we strive to continually improve our service to you, our customer.

"The transition from solvent based to Water Based Adhesives was a large project here at Global Upholstery, but the transition was professionally supported by the Adheco team. Their technical knowledge of the adhesives and associated equipment has allowed us to produce quality office chairs at low cost while maintaining required production speeds. Adheco's unique approach allows us to deal with just one company for our adhesives, equipment and exceptional ongoing service."

"Faced with the need and desire to eliminate the use of solvent based adhesives in our production processes while improving the bond required to achieve a first rate finished product, we approached Adheco for advice. After evaluating the options Adheco provided in terms of both product and application equipment, we moved forward with what ended up being one of the most impactful improvements to both our process and product that we've ever made. Nearly twenty years later, we can say without hesitation that the team at Adheco has always supported our efforts with quality products that are always on time and excellent technical services when needed."

"The air we breathe;

At Global, we have committed to reduce our environmental impact, as such we partnered with Adheco to help transition us from a solvent based glue application. They made the transition seem seamless, from line set up to training and beyond. It's not just about the products they provide us with, it's about partnering with a company that truly has a passion for ensuring we protect our environment for future generations."

"As part of our ongoing process to source materials that are safer for people and the environment we began exclusively using water-based bonding products from Adheco. Adheco made the transition to water-based glues simple and went above and beyond our expectations with a consistent hands on approach to training and helping us. We are thoroughly impressed with the service and would recommend working with Adheco to anyone looking for environmentally conscious solutions."

"At CRGI we embrace the values of continuous improvement and human development. The Adheco Team shares this same philosophy. By acquiring the Saba Adhesive water-based system we have dramatically increased our production processes and improved the health and safety of our employees and ultimately our customer's needs. Outcome win-win-win....thank you Team Adheco for your technical support and being our strategic partner!"
